Chapter 1

I was sleeping peacefully when something prodded my side, I woke up and hissed at the one who woke me.
"What is it Scar!" I hissed, he jumped back in fear but soon calmed.
"The scouts found scent of a stray raptor in our territory and well they wanted to know what they should do about it," Scar said keeping his distance, I got up and stretched.
"Show me," I said my temper now calmed, I followed Scar and the scouts towards the north part of our territory. We soon got there and there was an even fresher scent, I followed it and we stayed hidden when we found them. A large male and a female just smaller than him, they had no clue we were there.
"Why are you in my territory!" I hissed, the pair bowed in respect in hopes I didn't punish them.
"We are passing through we had no clue this was your territory almighty Swiftfeather," the male said, I liked his tone he respected me and my pack so I nodded my approval and they walked away through my territory.
"Not to question your almighty Swiftfeather but why did you let them go?" Fox fang asked.
"Because they have respect for me unlike some raptors around here," I hissed, we went back to the nesting ground and I went back to my nest in the cave to try to sleep when a roar of a T-Rex woke me. I ran out to find a young T-Rex trying to kill my pack, I rushed out and jumped on its throat where it was weakest and the T-Rex couldn't reach me at the same time. Scar was the only other raptor to help, the others were frozen in place by fear. I clawed and bit it's throat until I created a big enough hole to bite it's throat, I bit the bone and ripped killing the T-Rex instantly. I jumped off when it fell to the ground dead, scar was panting and had an extra scar over his shoulder where the T-Rex bit him. I looked at the others who were cowering in fear for they knew they were going to get punished, I walked up to them and started hissing.
"This time me and Scar are going to punish you!" I roared in anger, soon I had finished punishing them when a familiar sound came from towards the ocean. I ran towards the beach and saw a boat, which meant my favourite human had arrived again.

"OWEN!" I roared in excitement, he looked at me and ran to me to give me what he called a hug. I purred at his friendliness, my pack came out of cover and I hissed at the other to stay but Scar came.
"I see your pack has done something wrong," Owen said, I showed Owen and told the others todo what they were doing when me and Scar killed the T-Rex. He nodded in understanding, we went back to the beach when something hit my shoulder making me fall in pain.
"I TOLD YOU NOT TO SHOOT HER NOW THE PACK WILL BE ONTO YOU!" Owen yelled, the pain in my shoulder stung while Owen tried to help it. My pack came out of the trees slowly and started to hiss at the people on the boat, the people looked worried. My pack ran at them killing both of them in less than a minute, Owen had made the stinging stop so I got up and made a purring noise. My pack thought of him as Alpha male and so did I, I was alpha female and knew if anything happened to him they would have to deal with me. Owen petted my head than grabbed some things from the boat, he grabbed a stick with some wierd string on it, he grabbed a bucket, some worms and other things.
"Alpha Owen why do you use such weird things?" I asked although he could understand us he could only understand some of our language.
"This time I am staying," Owen said, I jumped up in happiness and hugged him in the only way I could and started to purr. I showed him to the packs nesting ground when we heard raptors barking, I hissed and shoved Owen into my den where he would be safe. He looked at me and nodded, I ran out to see what it was and saw something I never wished to see myself. It was a male Indominous Rex, he must have been a hatchling from the female one that my mother and the T-Rex killed. I hissed at it and told my pack to stay and keep an eye on Owen while I distracted it, since it could speak raptor he talked to us.
"Young raptor I bring no harm I only wish to pass through but on my accident I stumbled into your nest, forgive me for intruding," he said.
"I am Swiftfeather leader of the Swiftpack and if you are passing through we wish you luck," I said, he was rarely small for an Indominous but I knew with time he would grow bigger and more deadly, than he would try to eat everything at moves. I ran inside to find Owen and Scar chasing each other, Scar saw me than bowed and backed away. I nodded to him that he could play and Owen was tackled by Scar, the pack needed to eat so I gathered the hunters while the scouts watched camp. We were near the edge of my territory when something strange hit my nose, the scent was faint on my mother, strong on the Indominous and now it was very strong. I looked through the bushes and saw the one thing that made me freeze, it was the Indominus who had been dragged below by the Mosasaurus. I jumped out and started to hiss at it which made it look at me and my pack, she came closer.

"AHHHH so the child of the raptor who helped try to kill me is here pity your mother was a weakling now follow me and we shall kill all humans and be at the top of the food chain," the Indominous said her roar echoing for a while.
"Never you tried to kill everything, you then tricked my mother and her sisters to follow you and that got them dead so we shall never follow you!" I barked.
"So be it," she said stomping off, I ran back to Owen and put him on my back.
"What's going on girl?" Owen asked, I barked in a worried way and he got thee picture. Me and the pack ran for the steepest hills on the mountain, if we could get there we would be safe from the one hunting us. I knew that if she had found the nest with us there all of us would be dead, now that we had a Friedan of the same species as the Indominous we could fight her.
I do NOT own Jurassic world or any characters in it I made my OC's and well you know the rest, comment any ideas if you want them to happen and I might make it happen.

Chapter 2

Guys so so so so sorry for not doing another chapter for a really long time, I have been busy with writing other books plus school. I hope you can understand, please don't kill me.

We got to the top of the mountain, in the distance I could see the Indominous Rex stalking the forest. I knew she would track us down so we had to keep moving, Owen was starting to fall asleep. We were safe up here for now, I let him down and he lay on the stones warmed by the sun. I curled around him, I was worried we would not be able to keep him safe. In the sky I saw a metal bird Owen called a helicopter, a few people had guns out. Owen woke to see them, the humans tranquilized us all. The last thing I saw was them taking Owen, I barked one last time then fell asleep.

A few bourse later (duh).

I woke to the dead of night, my pack was starting to wake and Owen was missing. I knew he was safer with the other humans back on his home island, down the mountain I saw rocks falling. We could rest until dawn before we started moving, we went back to sleep.

A few more hours later (duh).

I woke to a bright dawn, I missed Owen very much but we had to keep moving. We walked down the other side of the mountain, I instantly knew we had entered another packs territory. We were greeted by angry faces, I made my pack look non threatening. The alpha Pari came forwards, they were strong.
"Why are you in our territory Swiftpack," the alpha male said.
"We were chased out by the Indominous," I said, one of their pack hissed in laughter.
"You may pass be be aware that it is dangerous on this side," he said, we kept moving when we came across a T-Rex nest. We snuck around the sleeping mother, we ran into a cave that was not far off. We were getting hungry, since we were so close to the T-Rex we had to be quiet. We all went out but found no scent of food, we went back to the cave to find a few dozen compy's. We killed them and ate their bitter meat, once we were full we lay down to rest once again.
